Curricula is adjusted according to students' needs

The spirit of inclusive education demands teaching styles to be adapted to students' differential abilities. Teachers create systems of offering additional support to students who may be struggling with comprehending academic material due to various reasons. In such situations, teachers offer slots for extra classes and doubt-clearing sessions.

One year Diploma programme in Conflict Transformation and Peacebuilding (CTPB)

Weblink: <https://lsr.edu.in/academics/departments/ctpb/>

Given the global pandemic and the nationwide lockdown, the CTPB Batch of 2020-21 started with an online orientation. In the orientation, the esteemed Director of the program Prof. Suman Sharma, senior faculty member Dr. Rina Kashyap, Dr. Snehil Kacker, and Dr. Priya Kumari interacted with the students and briefed them about the course structure and requirements.

A talk on Religion as the Source of Conflict Resolution was delivered by Dr. Renu Bahl, former Associate Professor, Lady Shri Ram College. She specializes in Indian Political Thought, Gandhi, Conflict Transformation, and Peace Building. Religion is mostly viewed as a cord of contention leading to wars and the rise in terrorism. However, Dr. Bahl, talked less about the legacy of religion, which is how it can help in conflict resolution through means such as inter-faith dialogue.

Taking advantage of virtual classes, the college could invite faculties from outside India such as Rob Walker, Professor, Department of Political Science, University of Victoria, Canada to talk to our students. He spoke, "On the Politics of Boundaries." The lecture explored the relationship between the obvious boundaries marked by geography and law and the political force of idealized conceptions of cultural horizons. The focus was also on the re-articulation of contemporary boundaries-- technologies of communication, relationalities, refugees, etc. The teaching-learning pedagogy adapted to the virtual mode by incorporating practical learnings and field studies conducted in the past in-class lectures such as visit to Mandoli Prison. This year specifically, faculty dealt in the classes with issues arising out of pandemic, lockdown, and ways of coping with it.

Office of International Programmes

Weblink: <https://lsr.edu.in/academics/office-of-international-programmes/>

From March 2020 till June 2020, due to the pandemic, the campus was totally shut for faculty and students. All teaching shifted online as did all meetings and most administrative work. The students who had come on Exchange fortunately returned to their home Universities just before the lockdown was announced. They too continued their classes and assignments in an online mode and completed the credit requirements.

Just before the lockdown from January to March, we had held interviews and selected candidates for the SUSI (Study of the US Institute for Student Leaders) Summer Programme and our Exchange Programmes. The students selected for the SUSI programme were Astha Bamba and Aanya Wig. The students chosen for Exchanges included Chahak Agrawal and Aarti for the Fukuoka Programme, Tayyaba Rizwan for La Trobe and Riya Mohan and Akanksha for the Macquarie Exchange. Anusha had been selected for the Masters Programme at Macquarie. The Australian Universities cancelled all the programmes with the understanding that if the situation improved by the end of the year, the Exchange students could join the programme for the January semester. However, later in the year this too was cancelled. The Summer Programme in the US too was cancelled.

Fukuoka University conducted the programme online and sent the girls their visa letters in March 2021 with the hope that the last three months of the programme could be conducted in Japan from May to August 2021. This particular programme continued through the year although much of it was online.

OIP remained in touch with our partner Universities throughout 2020 to work out possibilities for online cooperation. Sciences Po offered an online Winter School which was open to all students of LSR. Students were encouraged to join the course as the timings were such that the course would not clash with their class timing.

As the NUS-LSR Exchange Programme agreement was due for renewal, a new agreement was signed with NUS (National University of Singapore) in September 2020. This would enable LSR to send students either for a year-long exchange or a one semester exchange in lieu of the earlier arrangement of sending LSR students for a summer course at NUS.

LSR student, Simran Keshwani, who had joined Macquarie University for her post-graduate studies, was awarded the Macquarie University Student Excellence Award for Leadership and the Post Graduate Excellence Award by the Global Leadership Programme of Macquarie University.

Students of LSR were once again given the opportunity to apply for the Cargill Global Scholars Programme, a 2 year Leadership development programme which was open to only 10 select Colleges and Universities across India.

In February 2021, OIP opened applications for the NUS, Sciences Po, Fukuoka Exchanges and the Macquarie Masters Programme. There was an overwhelming response from LSR students.
